

Thieves

One day when we are rich and we have everything we need, we'll leave behind the life of crime. We won't give in to greed! We'll share our riches and our wealth with all humanity.

What fools we are to think like that; it's never gonna be. We pick the pockets of everyone and we can proudly state, we're equal opportunity thieves; we don't discriminate!

A wealthy man has way too much responsibility. He counts his money all day long and we do our best to help him out; we are so very kind. We take his money off his hands to ease his troubled mind. We pick the pockets of everyone, and we can proudly state, were an equal opportunity thieves; we don't discriminate! No, we don't discriminate! No, we don't discriminate.